MY OPINION

When I ride a bike on La Barthelasse island, I always think of the singer Charles Trenet and his song « Sa douce France ». It's there the douce France (Sweet France). Happy-go-lucky too. An old school, memories of fruits, charming calm houses, a castle we don't dare to come close to, a Pagnol style church and paths inspiring happiness. For me, la Barthelasse it's a way of being outside of the world, not far from Paradise !

IDEA #2

HIKING IN THE VERONCLE GORGES

3h30 – 8,5 kms

Who knows la Véroncle gorges? Nobody! No one except maybe a Gordien. La Véroncle, it's a secret. It's worthy. Here, impossible to get off your car, use your cell phone and take a picture. We reach them after more than 1h of hiking. This magic view provokes automatically a « why nobody is talking about it? » I loved it! We discover XVIth mills too!

Jaune/ Yellow

GORGES OF VERONCLE

Park your car at Murs (gas station)

Follow the yellow marks all along the hike

1. Go right, direction « Véroncle »
2. Pass by the campsite and leave the asphalt road to get the road of bois d'Audibert (go down into laces)
3. At the sign, go to the path that sinks into the oak grove to the right, direction « Véroncle »
4. On a slightly steep slope, you descend the gorges of Veroncle. Then cross the gorges and go up to the Jean de Mare mill (direction Gordes and Vézaule)
5. At the crossroads of Vézaule (sign), turn right towards Murs, and again right at the next intersection
6. Arrival at the Charlesse mill
7. At the intersection, take the left track
8. Join a paved path to Murs

MY OPINION

The road 84 is the result of our imagination. If you will need 5h to go all over it, you won't see time goes. The number of beautiful roads are so many in Vaucluse that time could have been doubled. Don't worry, it will be the subjects of future posts. The road 84, it's simple, it's cult! Mont-Ventoux, Plateau de Sault (lavander), les La Nesque gorges, THE Abbaye and crossing 3 of the ost beautiful villages in France. Your car is going to enjoy it !
